

CHARM 2023 – Award Winners

Prize	Winner	Title
Australian Association of Gerontology Award for the Runner-Up Best Poster Related to Ageing	Alice Kennard Canberra Health Services	Understanding the lived experience of frailty in the chronic kidney disease context: a qualitative study
Australian Association of Gerontology Award for the Best Poster Related to Ageing	Tricia O'Connor Claire Holland House	Answering the “How long?” question at end-of-life
Radiation Oncology Private Practice Trust Fund Award for the Best Pre-Clinical Poster	Rachel Woodhouse Australian National University	Menin inhibition as a novel epigenetic therapy for diffuse large B-cell lymphoma
Radiation Oncology Private Practice Trust Fund Award for the Best Pre-Clinical Oral Presentation	Rakshanya Sekar Australian National University	Characterising Safety and Efficacy of Red Blood Cell Derived Extracellular Vesicles (RBC-EV) as Therapeutic Delivery Vehicles for Retinal Degenerations
ACT Chief Nursing and Midwifery Office Award for the Best Nursing or Midwifery Poster	Patrice Murray ACT Health Directorate	Raising community awareness of acceptable behaviour in a climate of change
ACT Chief Nursing and Midwifery Office Award for the Best Nursing or Midwifery Oral Presentation	Kasia Bail University of Canberra	Digital storytelling supporting person-focussed dementia care: a qualitative thematic analysis
University of Canberra Award for the Best Allied Health Poster	Beau Mostyn Sullivan University of Canberra	The Association of Motives with Problematic Smartphone Use: A Systematic Review
University of Canberra Award for the Best Allied Health Oral Presentation	Jay Calder University of Canberra	The effect of exercise on mental health and wellbeing in people diagnosed with cancer: A systematic review and meta-analysis

Canberra Hospital Private Practice Fund Award for the Best Clinical Research Poster	Nicholas Goulding Canberra Health Services	Improving management of paediatric medium and longer term intravenous access devices
Canberra Hospital Private Practice Fund Award for the Best Clinical Oral Presentation	Harshel Parikh Canberra Health Services	A comprehensive care bundle reduces harm in patients with Central Venous Access Devices
CHARM Award for the Most Impactful Paper	Rakshanya Sekar Australian National University	Characterising Safety and Efficacy of Red Blood Cell Derived Extracellular Vesicles (RBC-EV) as Therapeutic Delivery Vehicles for Retinal Degenerations